AUXILIO Awarded $3.5 Million Managed Print Services Contract with New York Hospital Queens

Contract Establishes AUXILIO in New York City Marketplace

Mission Viejo, CA – October 25, 2010 – AUXILIO, Inc. (OTCBB: AUXO), the nation’s pioneer and leading Managed Print Services (MPS) company for the health care industry, today announced a three-year $3.5 million MPS contract with New York Hospital Queens (NYHQ). New York Hospital Queens is a member of the NewYork-Presbyterian Healthcare System and is an affiliate of Weill Medical College of Cornell University.

The contract is the Company’s first contract in the New York City market and second MPS contract awarded in the State of New York this year. It is also the Company’s fourth contract earned in 2010 through its marketing alliance with Sodexo, a leading global provider of Quality of Life Service Solutions.

Under the terms of the contract, AUXILIO’s powerful print management services program model guarantees NYHQ hundreds of thousands of dollars in savings over the initial term of the contract. The Company’s program will optimize the current NYHQ print infrastructure and enhance the hospital’s workflow productivity level. AUXILIO will focus on driving down excess print volume through its high performance technologies and reduction strategies, and will develop a customized print management program with full transparency that will maximize process improvement.

The new contract builds on AUXILIO’s escalating series of 2010 successes and solidifies the Company’s market position as the first and only health care exclusive, vendor neutral MPS company in the U.S. AUXILIO has retained 100 percent of its customers since its start.

“We are excited about getting started with a true MPS program, which places a priority on streamlining our print functions, driving out cost and improving service,” said Phil Myones, CIO of New York Hospital Queens. “AUXILIO’s flexibility, cost and MPS delivery model was a key reason why we selected the Company to help further our commitment to delivering the best service most efficiently.”

Patrick Connolly, COO and Sodexo Health Care Market President, said, “Sodexo and AUXILIO strive to provide excellent customer service, implementing the highest standards of business operations and cost reduction strategies that benefit the overall client experience.”

“We are pleased to have the opportunity to serve New York Hospital Queens, one of New York City’s finest medical institutions, with our partner Sodexo,” said Joseph J. Flynn, President and CEO of AUXILIO, Inc. “We also appreciate the strategic value to AUXILIO of winning a contract in the heart of New York City, a valuable and prestigious health care marketplace. All hospitals are facing the challenge of containing rising costs while implementing new technologies and services. We have the experience and expertise to meet the precise needs of New York Hospital Queens and support their print infrastructure management initiatives and assist in their electronic records management goals.”
