US Navy Funds $3.18 Million to Intellicheck Mobilisa to Extend R&D

Port Townsend, WA – October 3, 2008: Intelli-Check - Mobilisa, Inc. (NYSE Alternext US: IDN) is pleased to announce that after a recent successful demonstration of its technology at major naval exercise, Trident Warrior 2008, the US Navy added a task order for $3.18 million to extend IDN's research and development of its Wireless Over Water (WOW) technology.

WOW projects include both the Floating Area Network (FAN) and Wireless Port Protection Buoys to protect ships, harbors, and even monitor water quality and alert if an oil spill is detected.

"With the recent change now authorizing new off-shore drilling, the need for our high-tech oil-spill detection buoys could not be timelier. They could immediately alert the oil companies, Coast Guard and other agencies to oil spills or other potential hazards, improving safety and the environment," said CEO Dr. Nelson Ludlow.

The funding represents a formal task order from the US Navy to begin immediate work and is part of the Company's previously announced backlog. The work is expected to be completed over the next 24 months.
